Wishes to Complete Concurrent Degrees.

First degree in the School of Law

Second master's degree in the Major _____

A student may simultaneously work on two degrees by fulfilling the following requirements:

To meet the Graduate School minimum requirements for those programs which require 45 graduate hours to complete the master's degree, a total of 105 hours must be completed: 75 hours for a law degree and at least 30 hours for a master's.

To meet the Graduate School minimum requirements for those programs which require more than 45 hours to complete the degree, more than 105 hours shall be required. A review of the student record must clearly show that the degree requirements for each major have been met.

List all course designations for each degree on page two of this form. Remember, courses used for one degree, cannot be used for another degree.

All hours for the master's must be in residence—no transfer credits from other institutions or from non-matriculant status will be considered.
