Welcome to the NEW Graduate Student Center

The Graduate Student Center is the only place on campus dedicated to graduate students. It is a great place to study, work on small group projects, or just relax. The Center also hosts seminars, speakers, and other special events.

You're Invited to the Graduate School Open House on April 12

The Graduate School Open House will be held on April 12 from 4:00 to 6:30 p.m. All are welcome, but your RSVP is requested. On Thursday, April 12, we will be open for tours only, from 4:00-5:00 p.m. After the tours, there will be a wine tasting and office tour at 5:00 p.m. at Susan Campbell Hall. A great opportunity for learning more about the Graduate School and also seeing the rest of our new office space.

Featured In This Issue

- Call for Applications: Global Oregon Summer Translation Award
- Oregon Leadership in Sustainability (OLIS) Grad Certificate Program
- Student Experience Survey Coming Soon!
- Grad School Receives WAGS/ETS Award for Excellence and Innovation
- Announcing the OLIS Graduate Certificate Program
- The Versatile PhD Panel: “Careers in Corporate and Institutional Research”
- More Details
- Wine Tasting 5:00
- Office Tour at 5:00 p.m.
- Reminder: April 6 & 10 deadlines for award applications
- The New Graduate Student Center

Student Experience Survey Coming Soon!

The Graduate School will be launching a line graduate student experience survey in April. It's a great way to provide input confidentially about your graduate program and your experience at UO. Five reasons why should you participate:

1. It’s a great way to provide input about your graduate program and your experience at UO.
2. Participating means a chance to win one of 20 prizes, including four $200 gift cards.
3. It only takes about 15 minutes to complete.
4. It’s an opportunity to provide valuable feedback to improve the quality of graduate education on our campus.
5. You can choose to have your responses kept confidentially.

Participating means a chance to win one of 20 prizes, including four $200 gift cards. It only takes about 15 minutes to complete. This opportunity only presents itself once in every three years. Keep an eye out for an email with a link to the survey. For more information, visit the Graduate School website.

For more information, drop by the Graduate Student Center or view details and nomination instructions online. Nominations are due Friday, March 23.

Announcing the OLIS Graduate Certificate Program

The Oregon Leadership in Sustainability (OLIS) Graduate Certificate Program is designed to train graduate students to take leadership roles in urban sustainability efforts. Students will learn to approach sustainability as a multidisciplinary effort with an intersectional perspective. OLIS wants to collaborate in teams on applied projects for cities and agencies in Oregon. The program trains students to take leadership roles in urban sustainability efforts.

OLIS is a multiorganization, multiprofessional association, health care organizations: liberal arts college, university, science, will share their experiences as panelists on a panel discussion on careers in research. The Versatile PhD will sponsor a panel discussion on careers in research. The Versatile PhD will sponsor a panel discussion on careers in research.

Now Seeking Nominations for 2012 Graduate School Excellence Awards

The Graduate School’s Excellence Awards recognize outstanding individual, student, and institutional contributions to graduate education. Nominations are due Friday, March 23.

There are separate Excellence Awards for STEM fields.

- University Club Foundation Fellowship Award
- Betty Foster McCue Scholarship
- CONADAC Excellence in Graduate Education Award
- Graduate Student Excellence in Research Award

Students and whether they propose to apply for the Oregon Leadership in Sustainability Graduate Certificate Program. Students are also encouraged to provide nominations. There are separate Excellence Awards for STEM fields.

The University of Oregon Graduate School recently was named of our own! ...and we are proud to report an excellent effort to enhance minority participation in the STEM fields.

The UO Graduate School recently was named of our own! ...and we are proud to report an excellent effort to enhance minority participation in the STEM fields.

Community (CoDaC)

The Community (CoDaC) is the only place on campus dedicated to graduate students. It is a great place to study, work on small group projects, or just relax. The Center also hosts seminars, speakers, and other special events.

The Oregon Graduate Student Newsletter

Thank you for reading The Oregon Graduate Student Newsletter! Got questions? Comments? Story ideas for an issue? Call or Email Jason Stone: jastone@uoregon.edu.