Rehearsals for Life Seeks New Members

Featured In This Issue

- CommUniversity Assistantships Available for 2012
- Thanks for taking the Grad Student Experience Survey
- Research Forum Photo Album Posted to Grad School’s Facebook Page

More information about joining “Rehearsals for Life” in 2012:

- The graduate student theatre troupe “Rehearsals for Life” is looking for participants to join for the 2012-2013 academic year. If you are willing to commit for an entire academic year, looking for students who are comfortable in front of groups. No prior theater experience is required, although it is very helpful. If you are interested in learning more, please contact Jason Stone at Stonexj@uoregon.edu.

---

New Graduate Certificate Program in New Media & Culture

- Announcing the New Graduate Certificate Program in New Media & Culture, a program designed to engage graduate students in the creation of new media content and the use of digital technologies to increase knowledge, improve research, and promote diversity, equity, and access on campus. For more information about the certificate program, please contact Carol Stabile at cstabile@uoregon.edu.

---

Dance Your Ph.D.

- Gonzo Labs is Sponsoring the 2012 “Dance Your Ph.D.” competition. The contest is open to Ph.D. students and recent graduates, and the winner will be selected based on originality, dancing ability, and creativity. You can find more information at http://gonzolabs.uoregon.edu.

---

Panel Discussion on Patent Law Coming to Eugene

- The Panel Discussion on Patent Law will be held at the University of Oregon on June 18. For more information, please contact Jason Stone at Stonexj@uoregon.edu.

---

Research Forum

- Consider becoming a CommUniversity Assistant (CAs) in 2012-2013. CAs are undergraduate and graduate students who work to develop community living experience, and strive to create a value sponsored by the Office of the Dean of Students. CommUniversity Assistants (CAs) are undergraduate and graduate students who work to develop community

---

Graduate Evolutionary Biology and Ecology Students group (GrEBES)

- The Graduate Evolutionary Biology and Ecology Students group (GrEBES) is a group of graduate students interested in evolutionary biology and ecology. The group meets once a month to discuss research, share ideas, and socialize. For more information, please contact Jason Stone at Stonexj@uoregon.edu.

---

TedXBrussels

- The University of Oregon is a subscriber institution of the TedXBrussels Science

---

Panel Discussion on Patent Law

- A Panel Discussion on Patent Law will be held on June 18. For more information, please contact Jason Stone at Stonexj@uoregon.edu.